ATTORNEY GENERAL

DELIA’S DESPERATE DUMMY SPIT

September 17th, 2012

Opposition Leader, Delia Lawrie, should stop whinging and get over last month’s election defeat.

Attorney General, John Elferink, said the Opposition Leader's unedifying moaning was drowning out proper issues-based debate.

“Delia has to move on from last month's election,” Mr. Elferink said.

“If she has any evidence of wrong-doing I would welcome her taking that to the Court of Disputed Returns rather than carping from the sidelines.

“Instead, she wants to continue the time-honoured Labor tradition of wasting taxpayers’ money – this time through a judicial inquiry that would only benefit the lawyers.

“Delia Lawrie and Labor are obsessed with clinging to power at all costs.

“As last month’s election showed, a majority of Territorians don’t share her obsession.”
