ALICE YOUTH CALENDAR FOR SUMMER LAUNCHED TODAY

10 December 2012

Minister for Central Australia, Robyn Lambley, has acknowledged the hard work of all groups organising the Alice Springs Youth Activities Calendar today.

The Alice Springs Youth Activities Calendar is an integral part of ‘The Summer in Alice Action Plan’ and is being launched today from 3.30pm at the Alice Springs Aquatic and Leisure Centre.

“The aim of today’s launch is to promote the youth activities on offer and showcase the collaborative efforts of government and non-government stakeholders who will be delivering a fun filled calendar throughout the summer period,” Mrs Lambley said.

“Today’s launch is a ‘come and find out or sign up’ afternoon for youth and parents. The newly designed and printed calendar will be made available and many of the organisations delivering activities will be invited to attend and provide more information about their activities.

“I would like to acknowledge the team work of the various agencies for putting together and a special mention to those running activities as part of the calendar.

“A big thank you to Tangentyere Youth Services, Gap Youth and Community Centre, Alice Springs Youth Centre, Red Hot Arts Central Australia, Central Australian Aboriginal Congress, Centralian Middle School, The Alice Springs Town Council, Girls Club, The Alice Springs Youth Hub, YMCA, Steps Group Australia, Bushmob, Waltja Tjutanku Palyapayi, The Alice Springs Aquatic and Leisure Centre and NT Police.

“This summer young people have real choices, so get a copy of the calendar and keep it nearby.”

The Calendar is available at today’s launch or at the Alice Springs Youth Hub website and Facebook page and also the website for the Office of Youth Affairs.
