Dear Collection,

Working hard to lower the cost of living

Fabulous news for Territorians this week, with the announcement that electricity tariffs will be reduced by five per cent from 1 January 2016. This means for the average Territory family in 2016, electricity prices will fall by about $155.

The Country Liberals Government has been working hard to lower the cost of living for Territorians. Petrol prices have gone from being among the highest in the country to among the lowest, while housing costs have also eased on the back of the Country Liberals Government’s record land release program.
It wasn't only electricity prices going down this week. Statistics released show a decrease in crime in NT since the Country Liberals Government came into office. Crime across the Territory is down by 11 per cent since August 2012. Initiatives and innovative programs put in place by the Country Liberals aimed at preventing and reducing crime is paying off.

This government takes law and order seriously and the Territory is becoming a safer place to live. The Country Liberals Government is ensuring that Territorians and their families are safer in the community, at work and at home.

Finally, congratulations to Justin Fuller from Bakewell Primary School who was a recipient of the Chief Minister's Literacy Award for 2015. I hope you enjoyed your visit to Parliament House to receive your award.

Adam Giles
Chief Minister of the Northern Territory
Sector at the Darwin Convention Centre on Friday night.

Red Centre-NATS visitors inject $12 million into Territory economy

Visitors to the Red Centre-NATS automotive festival in Alice Springs provided a massive boost for local businesses by spending $12 million during their stay, new figures released by the Northern Territory Government reveal.

New process for land access agreements for mining and petroleum exploration activities

The Northern Territory Government has announced a new process for land access agreements between the mining, petroleum and agriculture industries.

NAPLAN results on the rise

NAPLAN results are in and Territory Year 3 students

Award winning architects to transform the Chan Building

One of the most exciting

Drug driving: not worth the risk

From 1 February, if you drive under the influence of...
are leading the way with significant increases in reading, grammar and punctuation.

architectural projects in the Northern Territory will be led by local firm DKJ projects. architects in partnership with the nationally acclaimed Fender Katsalidis Mirams Architects.

drugs you will be caught thanks to amendments to the Traffic Act passing through Parliament this week.

Subscribe to my regular Newsletter to keep informed on a range of Territory topics.

Postal Address
GPO Box 3146
Darwin NT 0801

Contact Us | Interpreter Services

Accessibility | Website

Unsubscribe