GOOD LUCK FOR YEAR 12 STUDENTS

Education Minister, Syd Stirling, today passed on Government’s best wishes to year 12 students as many begin their year end of year exams and assessment tasks across the Territory.

There are 1645 students involved in the year 12 assessment process. Most will sit examinations, others will be completing system wide and school based assessments.

“This is an important day for many Territory students and, on behalf of the Territory Government, I want to wish them all the best,” he said.

“After many years of hard work our year 12 students have reached an important stage in their lives and I hope they are rewarded for their hard work.”

Mr Stirling said Government was committed to employment and training and had significantly increased funding for this across the Territory.

“We want high school leavers to have a choice of careers in the Territory whether it be immediately entering the workforce or continuing their studies,” he said.

“This is a priority of Government and was been reflected in the 2005/06 Territory budget.

“It is a key to building our economy, increasing population and helping keep the Territory moving ahead.”
