WORK ON TOWN CAMPS MUST CONTINUE

The Minister for Central Australia Elliot McAdam said it’s disappointing Tangentyere Council has declined the Commonwealth Government $60 million offer.

“I urge Tangentyere Council and the Federal Government not to give up,” Mr McAdam said.

“It’s vital they continue working together to come up with an agreement to address the problems in town camps and create better outcomes for town campers and the Alice Springs community.

“The Northern Territory Government showed its commitment by signing the Memorandum of Understanding this week.

“We must work together to address the issues in town camps for the sake of all Central Australians,” said Mr McAdam.
