

Fine way to bring cheer

In the true spirit of the festive season, Darwin residents are invited to head to Bunnings Warehouse Darwin and Palmerston to help St Vincent de Paul Society brighten the Christmas of those less fortunate in our community.

Throughout December, Bunnings Warehouse Darwin and Palmerston will raise awareness and much needed funds for Vinnies so they can continue to deliver Christmas cheer to people facing hardships this holiday season.

St Vincent de Paul Society national president Anthony Thornton said the support of Bunnings and its customers could help make tomorrow a brighter day for struggling families this Christmas.

"Christmas can be a very lonely and desperate time when everything you don't have is all around you," Mr Thornton said. "The support from Bunnings and their customers means that Vinnies can relieve the immediate distress of thousands of people in need this Christmas through services which make a real difference to people's lives."

Bunnings has teamed up with St Vincent de Paul Society to raise money this Christmas

Bunnings Warehouse Palmerston complex manager Adam Cruse said the community support campaign would help provide Christmas cheer and hope to families in need.

Fundraising activities for Vinnies will take place in store at Bunnings Warehouse Darwin and Palmerston throughout the month.

St Vincent de Paul Society has more than 40,000 members and volunteers who work hard to assist people in need.
