Reform on the Agenda in Canberra

Treasurer, Delia Lawrie, is in Canberra today for the federal government's tax forum

“The Territory hopes the meeting will achieve an appreciation for the importance of a stable revenue base to states and territories as they carry the lions share of delivering services and infrastructure,” Ms Lawrie said.

“The forum is a unique opportunity to hear from a huge range of stakeholders from governments to community and industry groups on potential reforms.

"As a small but growing jurisdictions, it is important the Territory has a strong presence at such a comprehensive meeting."

The tax forum concludes on Wednesday.
