More Affordable Housing Opportunities on Offer

The Territory Government is encouraging industry representatives to learn more about the opportunities available through the National Affordability Rental Scheme (NRAS).

A workshop being held today in Darwin will bring together the Territory’s approved NRAS participants and open up a discussion forum to interested industry partners.

Public and Affordable Housing Minister Chris Burns said there is a range of work underway to deliver more housing for Territorians and delivering a balanced housing market is an important goal of Territory 2030.

“Venture Housing, the Territory’s affordable housing rental company, has secured 256 NRAS incentives and Venture’s founding partners Housing Choices Australia and Unity Australia have been highly successful in other jurisdictions with their NRAS incentives so it will be very useful for industry in the Territory to hear of their achievements,” Dr Burns said.

“Ethan Affordable Housing and the Australian Government will also address the forum to provide an overview of the scheme and a Q & A session and opportunity for networking will also form part of the workshop.

Dr Burns said the Territory Government is committed to providing opportunities to increase the supply of affordable rental properties for key workers living in the Territory.

The Australian Government has allocated 1696 NRAS incentives to the Northern Territory.

The National Rental Affordability Scheme Industry Workshop will be held today at Rydges Airport Hotel, Marrara from 5pm to 8pm.
