Northern Territory Police, Fire and Emergency Services - Darwin

The Northern Territory Government intends to appoint an outstanding person to the statutory position of Commissioner of Police and Chief Executive Officer of the Fire and Emergency Services.

The context

The Northern Territory Police, Fire and Emergency Services (NTPFES) consists of three integrated agencies – Police, Fire and Rescue, and Emergency Service.

The agency works in partnership with the community to: protect life and property; uphold the law and maintain social order; prevent and detect crime; improve road safety through education and enforcement; develop the resilience and preparedness of the community to respond to emergencies; and provide fire education programs and build community capability to best deal with emergencies.

The person

An exceptional leader is required who has:

• Proven strategic leadership, command and management capability in a policing/emergency management organisation
• Proven ability to manage policing operations including the full range of frontline policing initiatives
• Excellent communication skills including the promotion of agency initiatives proactively and publicly
• Demonstrated success in remote community engagement and service delivery
• Demonstrated ability to build capability, professionalism and ethical standards across the agency.

Appointment term and remuneration package negotiable.
