Registrations for the Darwin and Katherine Junior Ranger programs are NOW OPEN.

The Northern Territory Junior Ranger program gets Territory kids out and about exploring their fantastic backyard; tracking, hiking and spotlighting their way on many adventures.

Minister for Parks and Wildlife, Bess Nungarrayi Price, said that this very popular program gives kids the chance to get up close to nature and learn about how our wonderful Territory environment works.

“I grew up in the bush and know how important that experience was to my appreciation of the environment. Understanding and being comfortable in the natural world gives us confidence in our abilities to go on and explore the wonders around us” Minister Price said.

There are Junior Rangers in Alice Springs, Darwin and Katherine and each program consists of activities that are relevant to the local area, making environmental learning a real and immediate experience.

Activities are hands-on and physical, so expect to get dirty!

The ever popular Parks and Wildlife Junior Ranger program continues to be offered free to local kids and helps them contribute to our very special Territory environment while having fun and making new friends outside in the bush.

Junior Rangers are aged between 9 and 12 years of age and need to be able to commit to between ten and fifteen events over a ten week program that operates across April, May and June in Darwin and Katherine and July, August and September (Term 3) in Alice Springs. There will be two Junior Ranger groups in each region, with a total of thirty places in each.

Registrations for the Darwin and Katherine programs are NOW OPEN, for those in Alice Springs; look out for registrations opening later in the year. Enrolment forms and information can be found on the Parks and Wildlife website at;
