Country Liberal Plan to Restore the ‘Go Get ‘em’ Attitude back to the Territory

Territorians today got a tantalising taste of the future under a Country Liberal Party government with Leader Denis Burke delivering his Budget in Reply address in Parliament.

In direct contrast to Treasurer Syd Stirlings’ monotonous and short shrift of the Labor Budget, Denis Burke gave Territorians an insight into the enormous potential of the Northern Territory under an elected Country Liberal Party government.

“Territorians should very sad and worried that the Labor vision for the Territory only lasted a lacklustre 30 minutes. Labor obviously believes that they don’t have much to sell Territorians. If a pre-election Budget speech only lasts 30 minutes, they are glaringly short on providing real benefits to all Territorians,” Mr Burke said.

In a passionate and inspired Budget Reply, Mr Burke outlined six key areas that the Country Liberal Party believes the Territory has missed out on after four years of Labor mismanagement.

“We are going to unleash the full potential of the Northern Territory that has been stifled under Labor. The Country Liberal Party will provide an exciting vision for the Northern Territory based upon;

- A Plan to ease the tax burden on our businesses to stimulate their growth and profitability;
- A Pledge to grow our shrinking population;
- A Commitment to end waste in government
- An Action Plan on law and order to restore our quality of life;
- A Comprehensive Plan for infrastructure that delivers – not promises, and
- A Plan to improve the quality of life for families and our children.

“The Country Liberal Party will take to the election a comprehensive and genuinely innovative raft of policies designed to restore the Northern Territory to its rightful position as the powerhouse of the Australian economy.”
