Chief Minister Clare Martin today reiterated a Labor Government promise to apologise to the Stolen Generations.

Ms Martin said her new Government would apologise formally during the first sittings of the NT Legislative Assembly later this month.

"The Territory is home to many members of the Stolen Generations and it was a great shame that unlike other states, we did not previously pass a Motion of Apology," she said.

"As Opposition Leader I said the CLP Government should have supported a formal apology to the Stolen Generations.

"Despite the CLP's past opposition, I hope that this time the motion will gain the support of all Members of the Parliament.

"I urge all members to find it in their hearts to say sorry."

Ms Martin said the terms of the motion would be the same as those Labor moved when it was in Opposition.

"It’s such a small word with such great significance," she said.

"This is about accepting our shared history and moving forward.

"It is about acknowledging the injustices that were perpetrated against the first Australians and the forced separation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children from their families."
