The Northern Territory Government does not support a proposal from PAWA to charge Territorians late fees for non-payment of bills.

Essential Services Minister Kon Vatskalis said PAWA has put a proposal to the Labor Government, asking to introduce industry standard fees for late payments and bonuses for early payments.

But he said the proposal was rejected.

"This Government does not support this proposal," Mr Vatskalis said.

"The proposal has been deferred for PAWA to re-consider once it becomes a Government-owned Corporation (GOC) in July.

"It is important to remind Territorians the previous government advised PAWA that late fees were a good idea but it was not prepared to bring in the fees before the last election.

"Had they been re-elected, this so-called "good idea" would have probably received a favourable review."

Mr Vatskalis said recent comments about PAWA’s proposal from Opposition Leader Denis Burke were misinformed and outrageous.

"This is the man whose government left Territorians with a budget black hole of $120 million," Mr Vatskalis said.

"His government decided to put PAWA on the path to being a GOC."

In a separate issue, Mr Vatskalis re-affirmed the Government’s commitment to a Labor pre-election promise.

Domestic power tariffs will not rise," he said.

We made that promise and we will stick to it.

This Government already subsidises power production to the tune of about $40 million a year to keep domestic tariffs down.

We will continue to do so. There will be no rise in tariffs."
