Violent crime continues its rise across the Northern Territory.

The Labor Government's latest crime statistics show that it has increased every quarter this year.

Darwin (up 6%), Katherine (up 2%) Tennant Creek (up 1%) and Alice Springs (up 2%) all recorded further increases in violent crime.

CLP Shadow Attorney General Jodeen Carney said Territorians have every right to feel let down and angry over the Government's failure to reduce the level of violent crime in the Territory.

"It is particularly alarming to see sexual assault has increased a staggering 48% on the previous quarter and even worse an increase of 53% from the same quarter the previous year," Ms Carney said.

"The drop in property crime is welcomed but the drop coincides with an increase in violent assaults.

"Eighty one people can expect to be assaulted in Darwin this month, 26 in Palmerston, 62 in Alice Springs, 34 in Katherine, 25 in Tennant Creek and six in Nhulunbuy.

"The level of violence is totally unacceptable and today's statistics again reinforce just how violent the Territory has become."
