PRESIDENT’S REPORT

At our last Committee Meeting I was nominated to fill the position of President until the next A.G.M. This was brought about by the death of our former President John 'Pastry' Wilson. We were all saddened at Pastry’s passing and pass on our deepest sympathy to his wife Val and his family and multitude of friends.

Welcome back to our Secretary Graham Rees and wife Judy who returned home at the end of January after 4 months traveling around the countryside.

The Rees’ attended at the Southern Muster in Halls Gap during October last year. With 72 persons attending it was a great success.

John Wolthers
PRESIDENT

SECRETARY’S NOTES

Well here we are, back in the saddle again and off at full gallop. The Southern Muster was a well attended with 72 in attendance. A great time was had at the Barbecue during the Saturday afternoon, then an excellent meal during the afternoon. Let’s hope that future Musters are as well attended. I caught up with quite a few members whilst travelling around. A sad event was the passing of Andy McNeill at Christmas time down in Adelaide. We had called in and saw him and Marlene just six weeks before his death. I was glad I was home to see ‘Pastry’ before he died.

Graham Rees
Secretary

14. THE NEW BOYS.

(EXCERPTS FROM ANDY MCNEILL’S MEMOIRS)

The aircraft landed at Darwin Airport after dark and even though it was June the heat nearly knocked me over dressed as I was in a three-piece Teddy boy style winter weight suit. I was met by Constable Kevin Curley who loaded my case into an old ex-Welfare Department “F.J”. Holden sedan and drove me immediately to what was then known as “Jessie’s” bar at the Parap Hotel. A new version of the same bar still exists today.

Jessie was one of the barmmaids there at that time. She was middle aged, old to me, and had been there for years. My suitcase and my winter suit coat and vest were left in the car and I never had the opportunity to wear that suit again. I was introduced to some of my new colleagues, Ken Reed, Geoff Day, Harry Cox, Kevin Setter, Allan Anstee, Grahame Furnell, Jack O’Brien and Ken Parry. When closing time came at 10pm I was taken to my new home, the Department of Civil Aviation, (D.C.A.) Barracks about 300 metres from the pub off Parap Road.

Single men were housed in three locations at that time. The D.C.A. Barracks, some old ex-Works Department huts at the rear of Bennett Street, Police Station and part of the top floor at Bennett Street, Police Station. Total strength of the force was 97 men. Only single men were accepted for the job and in fact permission had to be obtained before you could get married. Fraternizing with non-European females, which in those days meant girls of Aboriginal or Chinese descent, was not encouraged. Drinking alcohol beverages was obviously not frowned upon and seemed to be the major recreation.
On the night of my arrival, having been waylaid at the Parap Hotel for many hours, I wasn’t capable of taking much notice of the barracks. So it was a bit of a shock for me when I awoke with a hangover and looked around next morning. The barracks consisted of two long huts partitioned off so that each contained sixteen rooms. There were no walls as such only partitions. Constructed of fibro and metal there was a tin shed ablution block at one end of each of the two long huts. In each of these were two showers and two toilets. Not exactly the Hilton! A small bedside fan and mosquito net were provided but there was no fly wire on the windows. The laundry was completely in the open and consisted of a couple of sets of concrete tubs and a couple of cement mixer type washing machines sitting on a concrete slab. Meals were supplied at an adjoining mess and overall weren’t too bad. I believe the barracks were originally officer’s quarters for the R.A.A.F. during the war and they were situated next to the original “QANTAS” hanger. All in all they weren’t too bad. At least they were handy to the Parap Hotel. The barracks were known as the “D.C.A”. Mess. Obviously they were owned and at one time had been for the exclusive use of Department of Civil Aviation (D.C.A.) personnel.

The Police and Police Offences Ordinance, Regulations at that time read as follows.

Reg.131 "An unmarried member or a married member whose wife and family, if any, do not ordinarily reside with him, shall be entitled to a room or quarters, suitably furnished with proper light and lighting facilities, free of charge."

We were provided with what was required by the Regulations and that was that.

It seemed like everything that you did whilst a member of the force, was controlled by Standing Orders, which complimented the Police and Police Offences Ordinance, Regulations. They told you what you could and could not do. Not only in relation to barracks but also for everything you did whilst a member of the force. For example you had to be in barracks, unless you were on duty, or had the permission of the Station Sergeant or and Officer, between the hours of 1am and 6am every day. Meals could not be prepared in barracks unless once again, you had the permission of the Station Sergeant of an Officer. Economy had to be excised in the use of lights, radios and fans. All of which had to be switched off when you left you room. Radios had to be licensed and the attaching of maps, photographs etc to walls was also a no no. Females were definitely on the outer and could not be admitted to any part of the barracks without permission of an Officer. Not even the Sergeant could allow a female into our virginal retreat. The consumption of intoxicating liquor, in moderation was permitted between the hours of 4-30pm and 1am. Except on Sundays when the hours were 11-30am to 1pm and 6pm to 10pm. The list of do’s and don’ts seemed endless. It was all a bit daunting when you first joined. However, in truth no one seemed to pay much attention to the restrictions unless something happened at the barracks, like a fight or extremely noisy all night party. Then the Standing Orders would be waved around and somebody would be charged.

My next shock that morning was seeing my first full blood Aboriginal man. He was from Bathurst Island and was raking cut grass in the yard outside my room. He was the shiniest, blackest man I had ever seen. He spoke to me quickly in Pidgin English and I had great difficulty in understanding him. I was to learn in the next few weeks that he and in the main all Aborigines were banned from drinking alcoholic liquor and that it was an offence to co-habitate with a female Aboriginal. If you provided an aboriginal with grog the offence was "Supply liquor to a Ward", and on conviction the mandatory sentence was six months hard labour! No fine, no good behaviour bond, straight into gaol. A similar penalty was imposed for co-habiting with a female Aboriginal and on conviction for a second offence on either charge; twelve months hard labour was the prize! There was a very small number of full blood Aborigines who were permitted to drink. They were mostly well known sporting identities, community leaders the artist Albert Namatjira and actor Robert Tudawalli.

Over the next couple of days more new recruits arrived. Peter Young, Graham Jones, Theo Brown, Ian Simons, Tom Zydenbos, Harry Belton, Tony Woodroffe, Ron Natt and Sid Davis.

Only Peter Young and I stayed in the job until early retirement at age 55 years. The others left the force during that time, for various reasons. Theo Brown was first to go in 1960 and Tony Woodroffe left in 1979. None went out for health reasons, which became more of a trend in the 1970’s/80’s.
We were a mixed crew that arrived in June 1959. Graham Jones was a farm worker; Harry Belton at 31 years of age the old man of the group had been a policeman in the U.K. Ian Simos was an ex Wool classer from N.S.W., Peter Young, who would be my Best Man in 1961, was also a bit old in the tooth at 27 years and was a Cooper by trade from Victoria. Tom Zydenbos was an ex train driver from Sydney, Ron Natt a South Australian was from a farming family, Tony Woodroffe from Adelaide was a Jeweller and Sid, later to be known as “Savage Sid” Davis, was ex Army and from N.S.W. Not an academic among us. We were however a good mix of the average Australian at that time, and I believed most of us possessed one of the most important attributes for a police officer, then and now, common sense.

In barracks with us at that time in addition to those I have mentioned were Peter Hamon, Allen “Boona” Barnes, Ray Jones, Phil Mitchell, Ken Parry and Ray Rosser. The latter had a reputation for playing the piccolo, lifting heavy weights, and farting. Not all at the same time of course. On one occasion after a Vice Regal visit, which had more than the usual number of problems Rosser is credited with making the following entry in the Traffic Section Journal, ” So ends another N.T. Police “Cock-up”. The story goes that when taken to task about this entry by Superintendent Clive Graham, he maintained that what he had written was true. He was advised that although that may have been the case, he should not write such entries in the official journal. Another time he was chasing an alleged dangerous driver in the Traffic Section Holden Utility and when going through the Salonika Railway Crossing, and changing back to second gear in his gentle way, he broke the column-mounted gear lever off the steering column. However he still managed to catch the offending vehicle.

VICTORIAN BRANCH

The Victorians have got themselves together and formed a branch within that State, Gerry Foster is President with Myra Hockley as Secretary and David Pollock the Treasurer. They are having a Golf Day sometime in April. Let’s hope we get some photos of the event

“If Love be the Food of Life..” (Anon)

A Doctor was addressing a large audience in Tampa: “The material we put into our stomachs is enough to have killed most of us sitting her, years ago. Red meat is awful. Soft drinks corrode your stomach lining. Chinese food is loaded with MSG. High fat diets can be disastrous, and none of us realizes the long-term harm caused by the germs in our drinking water. But there is one thing that is the most dangerous of all and we all have, or will, eat it. Can anyone tell me what food it is that causes the most grief and suffering for years after eating it?”.

After several seconds of quiet, a 75 year old man in the front row raised his hand, and softly said, “Wedding Cake”.

GRADING PAPERS

Can you imagine yourself to be the nun that is sitting at her desk grading these papers all the while trying to keep a straight face and maintain her composure!

Pay special attention to the wording and spelling. If you know the bible even a little, you’ll find this hilarious!

It comes from a catholic elementary school test kids were asked questions about the old and new testaments. The following statements about the bible were written by children. They have not been retouched or corrected. Incorrect spelling has been left in.

1. In the first book of the bible, guiness is. God got tired of creating the world so he took the sabbath off.

2. Adam and eve were created from an apple tree. noah’s wife was joan of ark. Noah built and ark and the animals came on in pears.

3. Lots wife was a pillar of salt during the day, but a ball of fire during the night.

4. The jews were a proud people and throughout history they had trouble with unsympathetic genitals.

5. Sampson was a strongman who let himself be led astray by a jezebel like delilah.

6. Samson slayed the philistines with the axe of the apostles.

7. Moses led the jews to the red sea where they made unleavened bread which is bread without any ingredients.

8. The egypotians were all drowned in the dessert. afterwards, moses went up to mount cyanide to get the ten commandments.

9. The first commandments was when eve told adam to eat the apple.

10. The seventh commandment is thou shalt not admit adultery.

11. Moses died before he ever reached canada. Then joshua led the hebrews in the battle of geritol.

12. The greatest miracle in the bible is when joshua told his son to stand still and he obeyed him.

13. David was a hebrew king who was skilled at playing the liar. He fought the finkelsteins, a race of people who lived in biblical times.

14. Solomon, one of david’s sons, had 300 wives and 700 porcupines.

15. When mary heard she was the mother of jesus, she sang the magna carta.

16. When the three wise guys from the east side arrived they found jesus in the manager.

17. Jesus was born because mary had an immaculate contraption.

18. St. John the blacksmith dumped water on his head.

19. Jesus enunciated the golden rule, which says to do unto others before they do one to you. He also explained a man doth not live by sweat alone.

20. It was a miracle when jesus rose from the dead and managed to get the tombstone off the entrance.

21. The people who followed the lord were called the 12 decibels.
22. The epistels were the wives of the apostles.

23. One of the opposums was st. Matthew who was also a taximan.

24. St. Paul cavorted to christianity, he preached holy acrimony which is another name for marriage.

25. Christians have only one spouse. This is called monotony.
