FLAGGING A GOOD BUSINESS

September 22nd, 2011

Territory small business, National Flags, was today congratulated by local member John Elferink for winning substantial contracts in the Pacific Nation of French New Caledonia.

“It is wonderful to see that small business people like Ron Strachan are working hard to put themselves and Darwin on the map,” says Member for Port Darwin, John Elferink.

“While National Flags is a small business whose head office is located in Edmunds Street in Darwin, its market has now extended into the Pacific, as well as other states, and it is exactly the sort of thing that I have come to expect from small business operators in the Territory.

“Should the Country Liberals form a government we will maintain our interest in all businesses big and small because it is the fire in the hearts of these business people that stoke the furnaces of our economy.

“Well done Ron.”
