Gary Higgins
Minister for Arts and Museums

A beautiful Seabreeze

1 May 2015

One of the Top End’s first community festivals of the Dry Season kicks off tomorrow with a packed program of entertainment.

The annual Nightcliff Seabreeze Festival continues to celebrate the diversity, talents and creativity of the Darwin community.

“Congratulations to the festival committee, organisers, artists, community members and volunteers involved in the 2015 Nightcliff Seabreeze Festival,” Arts Minister Gary Higgins said.

“The Northern Territory Government is proud to support vibrant arts community events and this year has provided $20,000 in Community Festivals funding towards the festival.”

“As one of the first community festivals and arts events of the Dry Season, the Seabreeze Festival marks the start of a dynamic and diverse season of community festivals right across the Territory.”

Now in its 11th year, the Nightcliff Seabreeze Festival demonstrates strong community involvement and partnerships in all stages of the planning, development and staging of the festival.

The free community festival runs from 2-10 May with the key event ‘Big Day’ program being held on the Nightcliff Foreshore on Saturday 2 May.

The Nightcliff Seabreeze Big Day features more than ten sites along the Nightcliff foreshore that in previous years has attracted more than 15,000 festival-goers.

This year’s performance highlights include: Circus Kathmandu and Corrugated Iron Youth Arts, Jigsaw collective, Afro Moses and Dave Garnham.

For information on more exciting community events go to the Festivals NT calendar at http://www.travelnt.com/events.aspx

Media Contact:

Lorelei Fong Lim, 0400 165 743