I’M SO DIZZY

Gerry Wood, Independent Member for Nelson, says he’s feeling a bit dizzy lately.

He says it may have been caused by recent Government announcements followed by other announcements which seemed to be different than the original announcements.

Announcements

1.   (a) There would be a review of the liquor act including lock out laws.
     (b) There would be a review of the liquor act not including lock out laws.

2.   (a) Tradies scheme would only apply to community type projects not individual households.
     (b) Tradies Scheme would apply to community type projects and individual projects.

3.   (a) No to a Dan Murphy’s over 400sqm of floor space.
     (b) Dan Murphy is up for negotiation and is not dead.

4.   (a) Labor supports electoral law reform, including for political donations.
     (b) Labor accepts donations from Mick Burns who is part of the alcohol industry.

Gerry says whilst it is reasonable for Governments to change their mind, if it becomes a constant way of doing things then people are going to ask if the Government knows what it is doing, or has it thought through the issues in the first place or is just got a bad case of first year delirium.
